

ICIS Newsletter May 2023

Dear colleagues

Please find herewith our May 2023 Newsletter:

ICIS Board, Retirement of George Buchanan

After his retirement George Buchanan remains our esteemed colleague and medical expert, not only in pediatric hematology, especially ITP, but also in pediatric oncology. We thank George for his highly appreciated support and contributions over the last 30 years and we wish him all the best for his future.

ICIS Expert Meeting, Lenzerheide, Switzerland 2022

The 7th ICIS ITP Intercontinental Expert-Meeting on “Refractory ITP: Characterization, Definition and Management” was held in Lenzerheide, Switzerland in September 2022. 30 well-known Experts in ITP shared their knowledge, fruitful discussions made this meeting very important for future guidelines in the management and definition of ITP.

Currently we are in preparation of the Publications of 15 articles and 300 pages in the British Journal of Hematology soon. Please see <https://itpbasel.ch/publications/>

PARC-ITP

The PARC-ITP Registry is open and reflects current practice of the management of children and adults with ITP. Please continue to register patients of all ages with newly diagnosed ITP. For details please contact itpbasel@unibas.ch, thank you in advance.

With best regards from Switzerland, yours sincerely
